MARRIAGE.

On the 15th May, at St. John's, West Hoboken, by the Vicar, the Rev. W. H. Sloan, A.K.C., FRANCIS ARTHUR HAZELAND, Hongkong Civil Service, eldest son of the late F. I. HAZELAND, Crown Solicitor, Hongkong, to CHARLOTTE MARY, eldest surviving daughter of the late G. OLIVER and of Mrs. Oliver, 5, St. John's-parade, W. Hendon.

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, June 19th, 1899.

WHILE the horror of the Kucheng massacre of 1895 is still fresh in the recollection of the foreign communities of China comes news of another massacre, in the same province of Fukien and in an adjoining department. The foreign victims on this occasion were the Rev. H. S. PHILLIPS, B.A., of the Church Missionary Society, Mrs. PHILLIPS, and Miss SEARS, of the Zenana Society, and in addition to the foreigners seven Chinese converts have been killed. There have been mutterings of trouble for some time past and if the native authorities were not prepared for it it must have been due to their own culpable carelessness. The Foochow Echo of the 27th May said:—"Some uneasiness" is been felt this week "by the news of trouble at Kienying. It "appears that the murder of a native had "taken place, which was laid to the charge "of the foreigners there, and the missions "were threatened. A telegram, however, "was received last night advising a settle-"ment of the trouble and that peace was "restored." This, however, appears to have been a too sanguine view of the situation, for uneasiness continued to prevail, and it was, we believe, in consequence of this that Archdeacon WOLFE found himself unable to leave Foochow to attend the Church Missionary Society's centenary celebration in Hongkong, as had been arranged. As far as can be judged from the meagre information to hand, the case bears a strong resemblance to that of the Kucheng massacre in its origin. On the occasion of the Kucheng affair the Right Rev. Bishop BURDON received a letter from Archdeacon WOLFE in which the following was given as the supposed origin of the outbreak:—"A "man was murdered in the district in one "of the village feuds and the magistrate "went to investigate the case and appre-"hend the murderer. The latter belonged "to the Vegetarian Society, which at once "came to the rescue of a member of their "party and drove off the magistrate and his "police. On this the magistrate sent to "Foochow for help and the Viceroy ordered "up about 150 soldiers. The Vegetarians, "seeing this, assembled in their thousands "and determined to fight and resist the "soldiers; but they decided first to kill all "the foreigners at Hwasang (a high "mountainous region about twelve miles "from Kucheng, where all the missionaries "were taking shelter from the dreadful heat "of the plains), as they suspected the "foreigners of having been the means "of bringing up the soldiers from Foo-"chow. This is the reason given by the "magistrate, and it is the common be-"lief of the people." Subsequent investigations went to show, however, that the supposed power of the vegetarian Society was a myth and that the officials had been guilty of criminal neglect in not taking steps to prevent the threatened outbreak, if indeed they had not connived at and encouraged the growing disorder. Now, within a period of four years, another horrible outrage has to be recorded, and the Rev. Mr. Phillips, who was one of the survivors of the Kucheng massacre, is on this occasion one of the victims. Deep and widespread sympathy will, needless to say, be extended to the friends and relatives of those who have lost their lives, and the news of the crime will excite horror and detestation throughout the civilised world. The most important point for consideration, however, is what measures are to be taken to prevent the recurrence of such outrages. This question has been before the Foreign Governments for the last half century and has been dealt with for the most part in a very inadequate manner. Germany has within the last few years shown us one way of treating it, by the seizure of Kiaochau, and it is an to be hoped that the action of that Power will on the present occasion be emulated in its vigour if not in the precise details of its methods. Great Britain has disavowed any desire for the acquisition of territory and has in a measure pledged herself to uphold the integrity of China, but if territorial compensation is not to be exacted it is to be hoped that at least the necessity of reforming the native administration may be thoroughly recognised and that Her Majesty's Government will not hesitate to undertake the task. The Chinese Government unable or unwilling to maintain order and fulfil its international obligations, must be assisted by foreign control both at Peking and in the provinces.

There were 13 cases of plague on Saturday and 20 deaths.

It is notified in the Gazette that penny postage now extends to Malta, Jamaica, Mauritius, British North Borneo, and Labuan.

Mr. E. Georgi in his Weekly Share List dated 17th June, says:—Only a moderate business has been done since issue of my last circular. The most notable changes have been a rise in China and Manila Steamship Company shares, in Hongkong Lands, Charbonnages, and in Punjoms.

At about eleven o'clock on Saturday morning one of the brick pillars which supported the roof of a godown at 73, Praya East, occupied by Tong Sing's Engineering Works, gave way. In consequence a portion of the roof fell upon the men working below and two of them were so seriously injured that they had to be taken to the Government Civil Hospital.

The resolution of the Sanitary Board declaring health districts 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10 infected with plague is published in the Gazette. No. 9 district has already been declared infected. The whole of the city from Pedder Street, to Cadogan Street, Kennedytown, and from the harbour to Caine Road and the Pokfulam conduit is now covered by the proclamations.

The British steamer Waterloo has arrived at Algiers, having on board the crew of the British steamer Clam, which was wrecked at Bongaroni, near Colle. The Clam was going from Louth to Batoum. She was a steel screw steamer of 2,311 net tonnage, and the property of the Shell Transport and Trading Company, Limited, of which Messrs. M. Samuel and Company are the managers. She was 100 A 1.

From a home paper we learn that the British Iron Trade Association had arranged to send an influential deputation to the Board of Trade on June 7 to lay before Mr. Ritchie the views of the Association in regard to shipping rings and their effect on the rates of freight charged by the leading steamship companies for the conveyance of heavy traffic to the Colonies, China, Japan, and India. The Association desires a Royal Commission or Select Committee of the House of Commons.

The German transport Weimar, Com. H. Blocker, left Wilhelmshaven on 12th May and arrived at Singapore on the 9th June. She has a tonnage of 3,175 and h.-power 3,200. It was expected the Weimar would leave on the 10th for Amoy. There are on board 11 Officers, 45 N. C's., and 843 Mannschaften for service with the German Squadron in the Far East. The Weimar, the Free Press says, would have come to Hongkong to effect reliefs with the old crews but for the plague here.

The appointment of the following gentlemen to be a Committee for looking after the Queen's Recreation Ground (Causeway Bay) and for the drawing up of regulations in connection therewith is gazetted:—The Director of Public Works (Chairman), Commander C. W. Plenderleath, R.N., Captain Sir H. McMahon, Bart., R.W.F., Hon. T. H. Whitehead, Mr. H. L. Dalrymple, Dr. J. M. Atkinson, P.C.M.O., Messrs. E. A. Ram, E. D. Sanders, J. Barton, and T. F. Hough.

It is notified that from the 1st July the rate of postage on newspapers to Australia, British India, Netherlands India, and the various countries of the Far East is to be 2 cents per 4 ounces. At present the rate is 2 cents per 2 ounces, and as newspapers are generally over 2 ounces in weight the postage costs 4 cents. The raising of the limit of weight will therefore result in a saving to the senders. The boon would have been still more appreciated had it been made applicable to newspapers sent to the United Kingdom.

Messrs. Burmeister and Wain, Copenhagen, in the presence of Prince and Princess Valdemar of Denmark, have launched the steamer Annam, built on account of the East Asiatic Company, Copenhagen. The Annam is the largest vessel hitherto built in Scandinavia. She is 428 feet long, breadth 49 feet 6 inches, depth 30 feet 6 inches. She carries about 7,300 tons, the engine power is 3,000 horse, and the speed 14 knots. Although intended for a cargo steamer, there will be about twenty private cabins, and everything will be most modern, with electric lighting, &c.

Mr. Ernest Rason writes to the Times:—The question of the Russian line from Mukden to Peking via Shanhaikwan, which seems to have come as a surprise to the Chinese Government as well as the English papers, was no doubt discussed by our ambassador in Russia during the pourparlers which took place whilst arranging the agreement recently concluded between Russia and England on the subject of China. If this railway was not so discussed, and if it has come as a surprise on the English papers and Chinese Government, it is not on account of the secrecy of the Russian Government. In Yablonskin's almanac for 1899, published at Moscow last December, which is similar to our Whitaker, is a copy of a map of Manchuria published by the Russian Typographical Department last year. On this map are laid down railway lines completed and proposed. Amongst the lines proposed is one from Mukden to Shanhaikwan; it makes a great bend to the west about the latitude of Newchwang. I enclose the map, which is small scale.

Major Edye, of the Army Medical Service, is keeping up his reputation as a "mighty hunter." The Ceylon Standard of the 2nd June says:—Major Edye arrived yesterday by the B. I. s.s. Hindu from his hunting trip in India and Burmah. H.R.H. Prince Thurn and Taxis was unable to come to Ceylon owing to the receipt of a telegram from Vienna that the Princess was lying dangerously ill at Vienna. The royal sportsman and Major Edye had a most successful trip, killing no less than 13 tigers. His Royal Highness 7 and Major Edye 6. The Major will proceed to Trincomalie in a week's time. For the present he is the guest of Major Minchin, R.A., at the R.A. Mess.

"The Moralist" of the Straits Times says:—This necessity to forbid Chinese labour immigration from the ports of China is exceedingly unfortunate for the development of the Malay States tin-mining industry. Now is the time of all times when that industry might be expected to make progress by leaps and bounds. The price of tin is so high that, with sufficient labour supply, one might fairly expect that the tin-industry of the Malay States would double itself within the next twelve months. But alas! and alack-a-day! the scarcity of the labour is going to spoil that hopeful prospect. If the Indian coolie were of any good at tin-mining, that might be remedied by wholesale importation from India, but, for some mysterious reason that I cannot fathom, he is never considered to be of any use whatsoever at tin-mining.

An old lady—a Jewess—who appeared at the Magistracy on Saturday morning to charge a man of her own persuasion with creating a disturbance at her house, replied when his Worship asked her where she lived, "I don't know the house or the street." His Worship repeated his query and she replied, "I live opposite some inspectors and sergeants."—His Worship: Do you live in a house?—Complainant: Yes.—His Worship: Which floor?—Complainant: First floor.—His Worship: Is it a brick house, or a wooden house, or a mat-shed.—Complainant: An ordinary house.—She went on to say that the previous night defendant came to her house and used threatening language towards herself and daughter.—Defendant said complainant's daughter, who was a girl of 15, wanted to marry his son, who was much younger, but he was opposed to this as they had no money. On his going to the house the girl asked him for $500, and because he refused to give her the money there was a disturbance. Defendant was bound over in his personal security of $20 to keep the peace.

Mr. Justice Barnes had before him on 17th May the case of Brooke v. Brooke and Hoare, otherwise Brooke. This was the petition of Mr. Charles Albert Bannerman Brooke, son of a colonel in the army, for a dissolution of his marriage, on the ground of his wife's misconduct. There was no defence. Mr. Priestley, who appeared for the petitioner, related a remarkable story of deception on the part of the respondent, who is the daughter of a bricklayer. It appeared that when the petitioner made the acquaintance of the respondent she told him she was the daughter of a colonel who was killed on active service, that she was possessed of property in Worthing (where her mother lived), and that her brother-in-law in New Zealand, who was her guardian, held about £6,000 for her, which he was prepared to hand over as soon as he was released from his duties as guardian. All this was a fabrication, and eventually the petitioner learned he had married the daughter of a bricklayer. A separation deed was drawn up, by which he gave her £10 down, and agreed to allow her 10s. a week. He subsequently went to Hongkong, where he obtained a situation, and came back to London last year, when he learned that his wife had given birth to an illegitimate child at a house in Fairmead-road, Holloway, where she had lived with the co-respondent. After hearing the evidence of the petitioner, his father (Colonel Thomas Henry Brooke), and the landlady of the house in Holloway, his lordship granted the petitioner a decree nisi.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

[SUPPLIED TO THE "DAILY PRESS."]

LONDON, 15th June, 1899.

GREAT BRITAIN AND THE TRANSVAAL.

The Rand has approved of President Kruger's Franchise proposals, subject to reference to the Burghers. President Kruger, in thanking the Rand, said he did not know what was going to happen, that Great Britain had conceded nothing; he did not want war, but was unable to make any further reply to Mr. Chamberlain.

The Uitlanders' petition, which has been published, constitutes an exhaustive indictment against the political, financial, and judicial administration of the Transvaal. It is based on Sir Alfred Milner's despatches and finally disproves the unreality of the grievances of the Uitlanders. The papers generally applaud the masterly exposition of the situation. The Daily Chronicle alone condemns as mischievous the untimely publication of the despatches.

FATAL ACCIDENT ARCHDEACON WARREN.

Kobe, 8th June.

Many of our readers will regret to learn that Archdeacon Warren has sustained a nasty accident at Fukuyama. While inspecting the cellar at Mr. Swann's former residence, the reverend gentlemen slipped and fell on his heard. He was able to walk home, but has, we understand, since become unconscious.

Since the above was in type, we regret to learn that the accident has proved fatal. A correspondent writes:—Archdeacon Warren of Osaka died yesterday, Wednesday (exact time unknown), as the result of an accident, at Fukuyama, Bingo province. It appears he was looking over one of the mission houses and in going down to inspect a cellar he fell ten steps. He walked back to the house at which he was staying but complained of his head and lay down in the hope that the rest would do it good. Apparently he lapsed into unconsciousness, from which he never recovered. Evidently there had been a rupture of one of the blood-vessels of the brain caused by the fall. Medical assistance was telegraphed for but despite all that the foreign and Japanese doctors could do, he gradually sank.—Chronicle.

MISSIONARY MASSACRE NEAR FOOCHOW.

ONE CLERGYMAN, TWO LADIES, AND SEVEN CONVERTS KILLED.

The congregation which attended St. John's Cathedral yesterday morning were thrown into a state of consternation by the Bishop of Victoria reading a telegram which he had received from Archdeacon Wolfe, of Foochow, running as follows:—

"Phillips, wife, Miss Sears, reported killed. Seven converts. Report confirmed various sources."

The Rev. H. S. Phillips came out in 1888 and has been working in connection with the Church Missionary Society at Kienying, in the Fukien province, ever since. Mrs. Phillips, who was a daughter of a clergyman of the name of Hankin, of Mildmay, came out in 1892, and married Mr. Phillips about three years ago. Miss Sears came from Australia last autumn, when she passed through Hongkong.

Mr. Phillips was present at the massacre at Kucheng in August, 1895, when he rescued the survivors. On that occasion eleven persons lost their lives, the victims being all women and children with the exception of the Rev. R. W. Stewart. Indignation meetings were held at Hongkong, Shanghai, Foochow, Amoy, and Swatow. The Hongkong meeting, in addition to expressing its "anger and indignation at the criminal connivance of the Chinese Government and its officers in this and other recent attacks on missionaries and missionary property," expressed its "deep disgust at the apathy and indifference of our own Government and its failure to recognise the gravity of the situation and to take adequate measures for the protection of its subjects and for the punishment of the murderers." It is to be hoped that prompt measures may be taken on the present occasion to bring the perpetrators of this diabolical deed to justice and to bring home to the Chinese Government a sense of its responsibility.

Rumours of impending trouble at Kienying have been current for some weeks past and great anxiety has been felt, but it was hoped that the trouble had subsided. When details of the sad occurrence are received it will probably be found that it bears a close resemblance to the Kucheng (or Hwasang) tragedy. Kienying is some little distance further inland than Kucheng.

Mr. Phillips in his narrative of the Kucheng massacre said:—About 6 a.m. on August 1st, hearing shouts from the direction of the Stewarts' house—I was sleeping in a house five minutes' walk away, though spending most of the time with the Stewarts—I went out, and at first thought it was simply a number of children playing, but I soon was convinced that the voices were those of excited men and started off for the house. I was soon met by a native, who almost pulled me back, shouting that the vegetarians had come. I said that I must go on, and soon got in sight of the house and could see a number of men, say forty or fifty, carrying off loads of plunder. One man seemed to be the leader, carrying a small red flag. I could see nothing of any Europeans. As this was in full view of the rioters I crept up the hill in the brushwood and got behind two trees, from twenty to thirty yards from the house. Here I could see everything and appeared not to be seen at all. As I could still see no foreigners I concluded they had escaped, and as to go down was certain death I thought it better to wait where I was. After a minute or two the retreat horn was sounded and the vegetarians began to leave, but before they did so they set fire to the houses. Ten minutes after this every vegetarian had gone. I came down and looked about the front of the house, but could see nothing of anyone, though I feared something dreadful had happened, as I heard the vegetarians as they left saying repeatedly "Now all the foreigners are killed."—Mr. Phillips then went on to describe how the survivors and the bodies of the victims were discovered.

THE FIRE AT WEST POINT.

ESTIMATED DAMAGES $150,000.

The fire at the Wo On Godowns at West Point was still smouldering on Saturday and yesterday, but a fair estimate of the total damage can now be formed, and it is believed that it will reach $150,000. The building belongs, as we have previously stated, to the Land Investment Company and is insured with the Hongkong Fire Insurance Company, Limited, but the damage done to it is not extensive. Many of those who had goods stored in the godowns will, however, lose heavily, between forty and fifty of them not having taken the precaution to insure. The following are the names of those covered by insurance, with the goods they had stored in the godowns, the names of the Insurance Companies, and the amounts:—

Yeung Fat, Bonham Strand West, sugar. Chun On Insurance Company, $50,000. Ling Chau, Wing Lok Street, sugar, Messrs. Carlowitz & Co., $30,000. Kwong Wing On, Bonham Strand, flour, Messrs. S. J. David & Co., $50,000. Kwong Yau Hing, Wing Lok Street, flour, Messrs. S. J. David & Co., $80,000. Chit Wo, 15, Queen Street, flour, Chun On, $30,000. It seems that the last time anyone inspected the godowns was at eight o'clock on Thursday night, when all was found to be right. So far as is known no one went in in the meantime, and how the fire commenced is a mystery.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE SANITARY BOARD.

BATTLING WITH THE PLAGUE.

On Saturday morning a special meeting of the Hongkong Sanitary Board was held for the purpose of recommending His Excellency the Governor to appoint six students of the College of Medicine for Chinese for house to house visitation work; and to consider whether any further steps are necessary with regard to the outbreak of bubonic plague in the colony.

The President (Dr. J. M. Atkinson, Principal Civil Medical Officer) occupied the chair, and there were also present the Vice-President (the Hon. F. H. May, Captain Superintendent of Police), the Hon. E. D. Ormsby (Director of Public Works), Mr. A. W. Brewin (Acting Registrar-General), Mr. E. Osborne, Dr. Clark (Medical Officer of Health), and Mr. J. W. Duggan (Secretary).

The PRESIDENT stated the business of the meeting.

Dr. CLARK said that with regard to the further steps necessary for dealing with the plague, as far as statistics went the plague was undoubtedly less rather than more, although even under those circumstances they had had 233 cases during the last 16 days; but the special feature with regard to the epidemic was that the cases were much more scattered over the city. The cases had hitherto been almost confined to No. 9 Health District, but during this month there had been a considerable outbreak in Nos. 5 and 6 and all the districts to the west of No. 4 district and including No. 4 district. Under these circumstances he thought it would be as well if the Board declared the whole city west of the eastern boundary of No. 4 district infected with plague. It was not his intention to suggest that they undertake the wholesale cleansing of these houses as they had done in No. 9 Health District. Most of the houses had been recently lime-washed and cleansed. They were as clean as they could hope to get them under the circumstances, and it was only to give the Board powers to visit and to seek for plague patients that he thought it would be well to declare the said districts infected. It was only when these districts were declared infected that by-laws 23, 24, and 25 could be enforced, and these contained several extra powers which it was necessary to have. He begged to move that Districts Nos. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10 be declared infected with bubonic plague, No. 9 district having been already declared infected.

The VICE-PRESIDENT seconded and the motion was carried.

The SECRETARY read the following minute by Dr. Clark:—I have the honour to report that in a private prosecution for assault entered by Fung Chi Ming, one of the students appointed to carry on house visiting in No. 9 Health District, and in which I was called by direction of the Police Magistrate as a witness, it was held by the Magistrate that the assault was justifiable as the student was trespassing on private property. The Magistrate held these students had not been duly appointed as officers of the Board as required by Sec. 9 of the Public Health Ordinance. I suggest that the President be asked to call a special meeting of the Board, and that the Board do recommend his H.E. the Governor to appoint the following students as Inspectors of Nuisances until further notice, as the Magistrate held that under the said Sec. 9 only the Sanitary Superintendent, Sanitary Surveyors, and Inspectors of Nuisances are officers of the Board, the remainder being servants, and by-law 25, made under Sec. 13 of Ord. 15 of 1894, requires that the house to house visiting should be conducted by officers of the Board. Names of the students—Lee Yin Sze, Fung Chi Ming, Chan Fat Kwong, Tso Han Kee, Lau Lai Kwong Ngai Leung.

Dr. ATKINSON said that on the 9th May at an interview he had with H.E. the Governor he recommended the appointment of these six students as officers of the Board for the purpose of visiting houses in the infected district No. 9. He made that recommendation as President of the Board, and was acting upon the standing order of the 12th July, 1888, which said "That in accordance with the provisions of section 12, the conduct of the executive business of the Board be carried on by the President in the intervals between its meetings until further notice." He might say that this standing order had been frequently acted on before, but the decision of the Magistrate was evidently such that the students must be appointed by the Board—that the appointment by the President under that standing order was not sufficient. He thought it would be better to appoint them officers of the Sanitary Board under by-law 25, rather than appoint them as Inspectors of Nuisances. He proposed that Dr. Thomson and these six students be appointed officers of the Board under section 25.

The VICE-PRESIDENT seconded and the motion was carried.

This was all the business.

ARMED ROBBERY AT WONGKOKSUI.

At the Magistracy on Saturday four men were charged with entering a house at Wongkokaui, between Shaukiwan and Quarry Bay, at two o'clock on the morning of the 9th inst. and stealing clothing to the value of $150. They were armed with knives and revolvers and threatened to kill the inmates if they interfered with them. On Friday night eight men suspected of having been concerned in the robbery were arrested by Inspector Cuthbert. Two were identified by the occupants of the house, and two were found to have some of the clothing in their possession. The other four were allowed to go. Defendants were committed for trial.

ANOTHER JUNK ROBBERY NEAR A CHEW ISLAND.

Another junk robbery has taken place near A Chew Island, and one the depredators was brought before Mr. T. Sercombe Smith at the Magistracy on Saturday morning. After the occurrence the master of the junk made his way to Tai-ho (Lantau Island), which is some 15 miles from the scene of the robbery, and reported the matter to Inspector McHardie. The Inspector forthwith set out with him in the police pinnace for A Chew Island, and on arriving there they saw a man running over the hills. He was captured, and identified by complainant as one of his assailants.

His Worship (to defendant)—Did you go on board this junk at A Chew Island?

Defendant—Yes, sir; my master told me to go there to get fish.

His Worship—You went on board and took the fish, did you?

Defendant—Yes.

His Worship—Did you pay for it?

Defendant—My master told me to go on board and take the fish and he would pay for it.

Complainant said he was the master of the licensed junk number 2,198. On the 15th inst. he was at A Chew Island. Two women were with him. He had three piculs and 18 catties of salt fish with him. He was at anchor at the time on account of the wind. At about 5 p.m. a big sampan containing four men came alongside the junk. Two of them, including defendant, came on board and removed his fish, which he valued at $32, on to the sampan. They had no weapons with them. He went and asked the men's master for payment the next morning, but he refused to give him anything, and then he reported the matter to the police.

His Worship—Did you allow these men to take this fish away thinking you would be paid for it?

Complainant—They took the fish away without saying a word.

His Worship—Did you try to stop them?

Complainant—I did not.

Defendant said his master offered payment to complainant, who refused the money, saying that he wanted the fish back. Defendant added, "I am not guilty, it was my master."

His Worship sentenced defendant to six months' imprisonment with hard labour.

THE MURDER AT UN LOONG.

BY ARNIET.

Our readers will remember that shortly after the arrival of the British troops at Pingsang in April last the widow of a Chinaman who had undertaken to put up the proclamation of His Excellency the Governor came into the camp and complained that her husband had been murdered at Un Loong on April 17th. She stated that when her husband arrived in the village to post the proclamation he was set upon by a crowd of persons and severely beaten. He was then placed against a wall and fired at, his diabolical tormentors, however, with a view to prolonging his agony, taking care not to shoot him in any vital part. He was then put in a crate in which the Chinese carry pigs, thrown into the river, and drowned, the crate and the body being subsequently recovered by the troops.

Soon afterwards the man's widow and his son laid an information at the Central Police Station, and enquiries were instituted which resulted in the issuing of a warrant for the arrest of Tang Ching Sze.

The police came across their man unexpectedly. On Thursday afternoon a telephone message was sent from the Registrar-General's office to the Central Police Station stating that the man who was wanted for the murder of Tang Cheung was there, having come about some land. Chief Detective Inspector Hanson and a Chinese detective at once went to the Registrar-General's Office and found Tang Ching Sze there. The warrant was produced by Mr. Hanson and read over to the man, who was forthwith taken into custody.

Prisoner was brought up at the Magistracy on Saturday, and after formal evidence of arrest had been given he was remanded until Thursday next. Prisoner is a man getting on in years, and has not a particularly ferocious aspect.

TIENTSIN.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

Tientsin, 5th June.

The news of the week is the sudden and unexpected promotion of Chang Yih from the second chair in the Railway directorate to a seat in the Tsungli Yamen. The statement seems to be authentic, having reached us via the foreign Legations in Peking. It is generally understood that the honour is by no means welcome to the recipient, whose forte hitherto has been Chinese finance and not foreign diplomacy. Speculators here do not hesitate to credit the change to the powerful initiative of Mr. Box-Ironside, our Chargé d'Affaires in Peking, but on what grounds I do not know. It is at least a curious coincidence that Chang's vacation of the Railway Office follows so swiftly on the philippics of the Times against him. It is just possible, however, that the real explanation lies in the fact that His Excellency has discovered that the Railway is not the happy hunting ground he imagined for financial game. Thanks to the Cerberus-like influence of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank and Chang's numerous enemies and rivals, its accounts are carefully watched; and then, too, under the powers now held by the Engineer-in-chief, leakage of fund, either in construction or maintenance, is very difficult.

The nomination of a man like Chang's, humble antecedents and lack of scholarship, to the Tsungli yamen is notable. A few years ago he was in a position all but menial in the household of the Seventh Prince. Considering how scholars usually despise the illiterate in China, I fear he will not have a happy time in his new office. Chang has always been written down as anti-British, but no real evidence has ever been adduced on the point. After all that has been written against him in the English press, I fear his influence, however, small will not be on the side of the angels in the yamen.

The departure of Baron and Baroness Von Heyking has been the other event of the week. Our German neighbours spontaneously resolved to show their sense of their Minister's services by a complimentary banquet, and did so in a thoroughly handsome manner. Gordon Hall was taken and finely festooned with flowers and embroidery. Covers were laid for eighty-five, including fourteen ladies; and after the more formal proceedings of speech-making and the banquet, a pleasant social evening was spent in dancing. Herr Schroetter, of Messrs. Telge, presided, and eloquently expressed the sentiments of all present. Heartily eulogized the consummate ability and strength displayed in Peking by their guest during the greatest crisis in modern Chinese history, and especially referred to their guest's action re Kiaochau; he said that in Von Heyking's term of office the Fatherland's position and prestige in the Far East had risen indefinitely.

The Baron made a modest reply; he entirely omitted all reference to Kiaochau (probably as exclusively the policy of the Emperor William) and dwelt on the success of his efforts in securing the Chinkiang Railway. He was grateful not only for this splendid testimony of the sentiments of the German community in Tientsin, but for the staunch support and sympathy extended to him from Fatherlanders all up and down the Littoral during his tenure of office. If he had been able to be of any use to them it was only in the bare exercise of duty and in the reaction of gratitude.

The proceedings lasted till 1.30 a.m. On Friday the distinguished visitors, accompanied by the German marine guard which has been here all the winter, were seen off by the whole German community. They embarked at Taku in the Kaiserin Augusta for Shanghai.

The position of Naval Adviser held by the late Captain Dundas, R.N., is to be taken up by Lieut. Lymberg, late of the Royal Danish Navy. The appointment is of no practical importance, as there are no present duties beyond that of drawing pay; but it is potentially important, and in its side issues is very significant. Mr. Lymberg is a protégé of Count Cassini and was introduced into the Chinese Service under the steady pressure of the Russian Legation in Peking in 1890 at a time when pin-pricking of England was a favourite diplomatic pastime. It will be curious to see how the English Foreign Office and the Legation people in Peking will take this appointment. The Admiralty and officers of the China Squadron will view it with indifference; they have never felt any enthusiasm on the question of China's naval strength, from a conviction that the Chinese navy must remain a farce (when it is not a temptation or inducement to attack) as long as it is in native hands.

This reminds me that (brevet) Rear-Admiral Yeh has now taken command at Taku. Admiral Yeh is a fine fellow, able and competent, and if anything can be done he is the man to do it. His two great difficulties are personal, especially with the junior commissioned officers, and supply. The condition of affairs on shore which led to the failure at the Yalu again obtains; there is no guarantee that the ships will be well found in stores or in ammunition.

Warren's Circus is here sweetening the life of the natives and foreigners alike. A circus is about the only form of occidental show that has any chance in this remote off-corner of the world. The Europeans are too few and too polyglot for a good theatrical company, but the Chinese dearly love a circus and especially with good horsemanship and plenty of the zany element. The natives rise instantly to the drolleries of the clowns. Unfortunately Messrs. Warrens are just a little deficient in these two features, but it is no long since we have had a circus that comparisons are not made. A very intelligent Chinese gentleman assures me that it is current in native circles that one of the performing donkeys actually speaks. Tell it not in Gath that the asinine tongue is English.

Sir Thomas Jackson's honour has been received in Tientsin and Peking with unbounded satisfaction. His ability and urbanity are widely recognised up here. It is not too much to say that Sir Thomas has done more for British interests in China than nine-tenths of all other influences put together. We look on him as the pivot on which the whole trade of the East turns, and our wonder is that the richly merited honour has been so long delayed.

THE PHILADELPHIA COMMERCIAL MUSEUM AND CONGRESS.

In a circular letter addressed to the Press, Mr. W. P. Wilson, Director of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, writes:—

The work in which the Philadelphia Commercial Museum is engaged, and the results it has heretofore accomplished, with the generous co-operation of our own and other governments, may already have come to your notice.

The first Congress held under the auspices of our Institution, in 1897, was successful in demonstrating its international character and showing that it is especially well fitted to bring about mutually beneficial trade relations between the United States and foreign countries. The standing and reputation of the museum is such that no other Institution in this country could inspire greater confidence. It does not enter into trade of any kind itself, and is in no way affiliated with politics. Its advice and services are absolutely impartial and disinterested and intended for the general good.

For these reasons the proposal of the Museum to inaugurate a still more extensive commercial gathering has met with enthusiastic approval, and there can be no doubt of the success of the International Commercial Congress, which, together with the National Exposition of American Manufactures, will be held under its auspices during the Autumn of the present year.

The Congress will be of the greatest possible benefit to all the countries represented in its deliberations. There will be afforded every opportunity for a full and fair discussion of all matters of interest between the United States and other nations. Unchecked in any way by government control, the gathering will attract world-wide attention. Its recommendations will no doubt have great weight in shaping the future legislation of this country. The importance of the Congress is such that the opening session will be presided over by the President of the United States, and the entire Diplomatic Corps stationed at Washington will be in attendance.

Representation in the Congress will be, first, by delegates appointed by the various countries desiring to participate; and, second, by regularly appointed delegates from Chambers of Commerce and other commercial bodies. Invitations to appoint these two classes of delegates have been sent to your country. Also, invitations to the most prominent business men, who will be welcomed in a private capacity. The Congress will be formally opened on October 16th.
